The commission was unable to effect an agreement with the ex-senator, and the land will probably be sold to the highest bidder.

GEN. CRESPO.

Carsons and In Congra New Under His Control.—His Triumph Over the Government Forces is Complete.

GARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 10—Caraons has fallen. The triumph of Gen. Crespo over the government forces is complete. The revolution is victorious. After

The revolution is victorious. After defeating the army of the government at San Pedro, Gen. Crespo began his march on the capital.

Three thousand of his troops, commanded by Generals Guerra, Rodriguez and Fernandez, entered the city of Caracas Sunday night. Gen. Crespo, with the balance of his army, is at Calvira, a short distance from the city. He will enter the capital Monday.

La Gusyra is also in the hands of the Crespoists. Gen. Crespo has triumphed Crespoists. Gen. Crespo has triumphed all along the line. Members of the government have either left the country or are trying to get out as fast as they can.

Before Crespo's detachment arrived La Guayra was filled with rioters. The news of the defeat of the government forces created something of a panio, that had not got fairly under way before the town began to fill up with refugees and stragglers from the army of the Pulido government that had met its Waterloo, and adherents of the government who fied from Carseas so as to be out of the way when Crespo's men be out of the way when Crespo's men got there. There was a lot of incendi-ary material gathered in the town. Pillage and plunder soon became general. Many houses were looted and there was much wanton destruction of property. How far things might have gone it is impossible to say, if Admiral Walker, acting with admirable energy and decision, had not landed a force of sailors and marines to hold the mob in check and preserve order. The sailors were warmly welcomed by all who were not themselves seeking plunder. There is no doubt that much property and, perhaps, many lives were preserved by the landing of the men from the cruisers Chicago and Kearsarge.

Fugitives from Caraccas tell me that the roads between here and the capital are almost impassable. They are filled with people who are fleeing they hardly know where, and are seeking, many of them, to take their portable property with them.

Stragglers and comp followers are hurrying and sourrying to get to the sea-side, thus adding to the general confusion.

It is rumored that Pulido and the members of his cabinet embarked from here and got safely on board some ves sels that will carry them all beyond Crespo's reach

The advent of the Crespoists was hailed with delight. They met with no resistence. There was no organized force to oppose them. The remnant of the government forces that had reached here was without officers to command it. The officers had deserted.

Amid the confusion one fact stands out as clear as the noonday sun-the revolution has triumphed.

BOUNDARY SURVEY.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 10.-F. P. Carrollo, a merchant of Frontera, Mex., which was supposed to be located on the line between Mexico and the United States, arrived here Sunday. He states that the international boundary survey has been completed some distance past that place, and that the old boundary line has been greatly changed. The custom-house at Frontera was found to be nearly four miles south of the line. and its removal to the line has been ordered. Several rich mining properties, which for the past several years have been worked under the United States mining laws, are in Mexico under the new survey, and the owners are very much exercised, as it means a heavy loss to them on account of the duties on the ore, which is smelted in the United States. Those engaged in making the survey have suffered many hardships owing to the lack of water, and many desertions from the laboring corps have occurred.

His Chicago Admirers Will Do the Handsome Thing By Him.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Liveryman Spears, who demonstrated his ability as a dead shot at bank robbers at Coffeyville, Kas, the other day, has some warm admirers among the banking fraternity in Chicago. A subscription list was displayed on Cashier Hong's deak at the First national bank, which stated that the object was to raise money to present Mr. Spears with a gold medal as showing appreciation for the dispatch with which he terminated the careers of the three desperadoes. The ink had hardly got dry on the heading of the subscription list before $990 was subscribed, and then the list was closed, as it was thought the sum was sufficient for the purpose. The order has been placed for a handsome gold medal, which will have engraved upon one side a picture of Mr. Spears with his deadly rifle.

Spears, of Coffeyville, Kas, whose deadly aim put three of the Dalton gang out of the way Wednesday, very well," said R. A. Dixon, of Kansas City, to a reporter at the Palmer house Friday, and I can fully subscribe to all that the dispatches say relative to his skill as a marksman. I have been prairie chicken hunting with him on several occasions, and he invariably missed less shots than any other man in the party. Indeed, it was so unusual for him ever to miss a shot that when he did it was always the subject of inquiring comment. He was without exception the quickest shot I ever saw. Repeatedly I have seen him when the wagon chanced to run on and frighten birds drop the reins, seize his gun and kill a couple of birds while the rest of us seldom got in more than one shot. "The rifle, however, was his favorite weapon, and his skill with it was truly remarkable. The only wonder to me is that Spears did not kill the whole crowd of outlaws before any one else had a chance to fire a
